

European Project addressing the safety of blood transfusion

Manuals of good practice safeguarding the ,vein' to ,vein' process now available as e-books.

For ordering, please refer to ,ordering information' (pdf-versions are free of charge) on the EuBIS homepage www.eubis-europe.eu/blood_manual_ordering.php

Ensuring that patients who receive blood transfusions in the European Union are given safe blood is a major objective within the framework of public health on the national and European level.

The Project has developed manuals and a training guide to assist the understanding and management of quality processes in blood establishments. The manuals can be used by blood establishments in preparing for the inspection of their services and if wished by competent authorities in assisting the implementation process related to quality relevant elements required by European Union legislation.

Prof. Dr. med. Erhard Seifried

Prof. Dr. med. Christian Seidl

The editors on behalf of the Project Participants